JOHN A. McCONE POST OFFICE BOX 1499
PEBBLE BEACH, CALIFORNIA 93953

December 19, 1986

Dear [redacted]

The earrings were an enormous success. [redacted] was absolutely delighted with them as were her three daughters, all of whom have seen them with envy. Now the only thing I have to do is to show the earrings to the husbands of the daughters and see if they get the idea of what a "thoughtful" husband should do.

The purpose of this note, [redacted] is to tell you how much I appreciate your effort on this project and to let you know that your efforts resulted in great success.

With affectionate regards and best wishes for the holiday season, in which Theiline joins me.

Sincerely,

John

Dear Mr. McCone:

Enclosed with this letter is the 18 karat gold and diamond Vendome watch we have discussed. It is waterproof and has a quartz movement - the battery needs replacement only once a year. There are 348 diamonds weighing 1.73 carats.

We trust this will meet with Mrs. McCone's approval, and if so, please return it so that the bracelet can be shortened to her wrist size. The difference in price between the two watches is $2,700.

Awaiting your decision and with kind regards,
we remain

Yours very truly,

ap:jw

b6
b7C

1620 hrs.: I called [redacted] at [redacted] and was advised by [redacted] that he had recently read in the newspaper that there was a theft of jewelry from the McCONE residence and he had some information which may or may not be helpful, but wished to pass it along.

[redacted] advised me that he is retired from the [redacted] and now works in the [redacted] and has recently moved from the Monterey area to [redacted]

[redacted] said that on 04/09 or 04/10/88, he and his wife were in the Monterey Peninsula area on business and while in the area, he and his wife went to the Mission Ranch in Carmel for dinner and drinks. He said while at the Mission Ranch bar, he overheard a lady talking about the John McCONE residence. He described this woman as in her middle to late 30's, approximately 5'5", sort of a heavy build, and having dark hair. He said this woman was drinking at the bar and talking to a man who [redacted] believes she met at the bar. He said that the woman was talking about Mr. John McCONE, whose name [redacted] recognized as being the ex-director of the CIA, stating that this woman was telling her friend and other people at the bar about how filthy rich McCONE was and how she was his personal nurse and telling people where he lived.

b7C

[redacted] said that from the bits and pieces of conversation he overheard, he felt that this was very unprofessional for someone who is taking care of a person such as Mr. McCONE and thought that the way this woman was going on bragging about how wealthy the McCONEs were and where they lived was not in the McCONEs' best interest. He said that it really bothered him and he thought about attempting to locate a phone number for the McCONEs so that he could let them know how this nurse was spreading a lot of personal information around about him at a local bar. He said that he never did follow through with attempting to contact the McCONEs and let it drop, however after recently reading the article in the newspaper concerning the theft of jewelry from the McCONEs' residence, he felt that he should bring this to our attention.

She said she believes all these people have the opportunity and access to the jewelry box, know the combination, and would have motivation to take the jewelry, along with being able to have the ability to plan and execute a crime such as this.

b6

She said that [ ] is involved in a power struggle with other employees and is essentially [ ] She said that [ ] right after the theft was discovered and could have taken the items that were reported missing [ ] She said that [ ] has tremendous [ ] who she could send jewelry to. She also said that [ ] who also has access, has a [ ] who hangs around some very undesirable company.

[ ] said that all of the above is just supposition on her part and she went on to explain, in detail, her feelings which were tape-recorded and a transcription will be attached to this supplement.

b6
b7C

I asked [ ] if she had ever taken anything from the McCONE residence and she said she had not, stating that she had borrowed a book which she has not finished reading or returned yet, and a small tape recorder which has not been returned yet.

I asked [ ] if the McCONEs had loaned her any money or given her any gifts and she said that [ ]

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] She said that she is [REDACTED] and that there have been some [REDACTED] on different occasions.

b6
b7C

I asked [REDACTED] if she would be willing to take a polygraph examination concerning the theft of jewelry from the McCONE residence and she said that she definitely would.

For further information concerning [REDACTED] statement, see her attached statement.

CASE CONTINUES.

INTERVIEW:

Investigator [REDACTED]

This will be a taped interview with [REDACTED] at the Monterey Sheriff's Substation in Monterey concerning the theft at the McCONE residence, Case No. 4-31255. The date is 06/21/88 and the time is 1010 hrs.

b6
b7C
b7D

OK, [REDACTED] I'll just keep this tape running so that . . .

Can the tape hear me from there?

The tape can hear you.

OK.

Whatever we, uh, have to go, maybe I can take it back up later on the tape. What, uh, you got some concerns about the, uh, theft at the McCONE residence. What's going on?

Yes, Mrs. McCONE asked me to come over and see you, specifically because she is concerned that any more time go by on the case because she has thoughts that she feels she will not have the opportunity to share clearly, uh, with you, perhaps. Her schedule is turned around due to the fact of her age and, uh, it's difficult for her to get together with the people. But there are certain things quite clear in her mind.

Uh, also I personally have some thoughts that I think might be useful to you as you proceed with the investigation. I hope they might be. Um, I was involved last year in the [REDACTED] . . .

Right.

. . . alias [REDACTED] . . .

Um-hm.

. . . investigation. I know that the sheriffs who worked on that case were totally misled in the early days and an innocent woman was fired from her job and it, and she was never brought to court or formally accused, but the sheriffs agreed and told Mr. CONE, "Yes, from everybody we've talked to, we think, probably, she's the guilty party.

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] And then, who were they speaking of?

[REDACTED]

OK.

[REDACTED]

OK.

[REDACTED] was fired from her job.

Um-hm.

I had just come to work . . . literally, I replaced that woman, but I met her in the transition.

OK, that was how long ago? That was . . .

That was last year in, uh, April, the beginning of April.

So you've been working since the beginning of [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

OK. And your employment there is as . . .

I'm [REDACTED] . . .

[REDACTED]

. . . to Mr. and Mrs. McCONE.

OK.

Um . . . actually, by background, I'm a [REDACTED] [REDACTED] but . . . through a series of events, I wound up at the McCONE residence doing . . .
started out [REDACTED] was the purpose of my going in there.

OK.

We have come close to completion on that, we're still [REDACTED] but then I also took up some
[REDACTED]

to Mr. McCONE. He enjoys that . . . he's legally blind, as you know.

b6
b7C
b7D

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] Uh-huh.

At any rate, [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

b6
b7C
b7D

. . . that they think she did it . . . for these reasons and those reasons . . . wound up that [REDACTED] was the guilty party, after some further investigation and so forth. I know who is spearheading the investigation with you on this occasion . . . it's [REDACTED] She not only has a good deal of influence with Mr. McCONE, she has uncanny influence with him, he relies on her totally.

Uh-huh. You say you believe she's spearheading the investigation, not necessarily the McCONEs.

Absolutely. Mr. McCONE relies on her now, in these last couple of months, since the oxygen has begun to take his mind . . .

Um-hm.

Uh . . . and he has to have the oxygen, to live.

Uh-huh. Is he on oxygen, uh . . .

All night long and several times a day.

OK.

And that has been going for six months and he's . . . was a brilliant and powerful man.

Um-hm.

And he understands what's happening to him. [REDACTED] [REDACTED] he feels . . . you cannot put these stresses on Mrs. McCONE . . . which is true to a great degree . . .

Right.

. . . and therefore he has come to rely totally, or almost totally, on two people: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Right.

. . . [REDACTED] [REDACTED] is a very peculiar gal.

b6
b7C

Uh-huh.

She's on a real power-trip there . . . since he made her the [REDACTED] . . . uh, there are many interesting background factors regarding this lady. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] . . not only on herself, but with Mr. McCONE, now that he's failing. I see her do it.

b6
b7C
b7D

Uh-huh.

She manipulates him and she's extremely methodical, and good at it. Most of these things are little things that I wouldn't be concerned about . . . I mean, I don't like them . . . I'm not in a position to question them, [REDACTED]

Uh-huh.

Technically.

OK.

If she went to him and said, "I cannot any longer brook the interference of [REDACTED] it's her or me, I'd be going down Riata Road.

Um-hm. That'd be the end of you.

Yes, absolutely.

Uh-huh.

But, with my background, I don't think she quite realizes that she's dealing with a person that can only be manipulated in a limited way, I mean, speaking of myself.

Yeah.

I will, for instance, come to you . . .

Uh-huh.

. . . and I will go to Mrs. McCONE and say, "I want your permission to this and here's why."

She doesn't have enough control over you to keep you from saying what's on your mind.

No. So . . . and I would be willing to lose my job for this.

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] Uh-huh.

Because those old folks can't defend themselves any longer.

Oh, I know it, yeah, they're in their upper 80's, mid-80's . . .

And they're not well. He, particularly . . . this is a tragedy . . . I got in on the last days of the "Great McCONE," with the great mind like a computer. The powerful man who had 100,000 employees at one time.

Um-hm.

And, uh, and to see what's happening to him is tough.

Yeah.

To me . . . OK, but to get to the point. I made some notes because there's so much . . . there's so much.

Now, this is concerning the theft of jewelry.

Absolutely.

Yeah.

Um, most of the people in that household live in fear, they're simple people, they're servants. They have fears of losing their security, their jobs, their place in this great household where Mr. and Mrs. McCONE have protected them. Would give them anything they asked for. You don't have to steal.

That's what I understand . . . that they're very generous.

Most . . . many of them are, uh, ignorant, in terms of how the world works and what their chances are to control their lives. Um, they all have different opinions. They all gossip. They're all poor.

Um-hm.

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] but most, most of us do. We're working people . . .

b6
b7C
b7D

[REDACTED] Yes.

OK . . .

b6
b7C
b7D

I can relate to that.

The jealousies in this household are terrible . . . it's like children. [REDACTED]

Um-hm.

When you speak to these people, you're going to run into these jealousies and fears . . . these gossip things . . these misleading things . . . tremendously confusing.

A lot of back-stabbing going on with each other.

Absolutely. The nurses all hate each other, the kitchen help and the household help all hate each other, etc. The office staff have their little jealousies going, um . . . so those are all factors here that are gonna make this difficult for you.

Right, yeah.

OK. I sat down and I made a list of the people who might have been involved and this is very subjective. This is how I view it. But some of it is based on what I actually know . . . about the house.

OK, this is a list of, uh, employees who had opportunity and access to . . .

Her quarters . . .

. . . her quarters . . .

. . . her jewelry . . .

. . . and the jewelry . . . who knew the combination, who had motivation, and who had the ability to plan and execute this, and who had the personality that would . . .

These are very subjective, obviously . . .

Right.

. . . but it's in my judgment, and I have worked around the world a little bit . . .

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] Um-hm.

. . . I wouldn't bet money on it, but I think, from this list, [REDACTED]

OK . . . [REDACTED] runs all the way across except for knowing the combination.

Mrs. McCONE thinks she knows it. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Mrs. McCONE believes it exists . . . or did exist . . . somewhere in the office, at one time, and the only person who would know that is [REDACTED]

Yeah. Mrs. McCONE indicated to me that she felt that [REDACTED] knew the combination.

But [REDACTED] denies it . . .

Right.

. . . vehemently.

Uh-huh.

However, you know, because of the profession you're in, that that combination could be cracked by anybody in an hour . . . if they had a brain.

Yeah.

It is not tough . . .

It's, it's a very simple lock.

OK.

OK, and then, now, [REDACTED] is listed as "Yes" all the way across except for personality.

[REDACTED] . . .
What is [REDACTED]

. . . is a, she is [REDACTED] she was [REDACTED] [REDACTED] was the person closest to Mrs. McCONE.

b6
b7C
b7D

b6
b7C

OK.

When Mrs. McCONE became ill and needed nurses around the clock, [REDACTED]

b6
b7C
b7D

[REDACTED] um . . . eventually, because she became edgy, and she can be real snappish, she got to the place where she was continually at odds with the McCONEs.

Uh-huh.

They would scold her and scold her and she would fire back. At the first of this year, for the two months when we came back from the Seattle estate, [REDACTED] She was just filled with rage over something, I don't know what.

Um-hm.

Somewhere in that timespan, I would say March-April, suddenly the sun came out and [REDACTED] was herself again. I don't know what it was all about . . . [REDACTED]

Right.

. . . but when she went through this withdrawal thing and I couldn't crack it, and she wouldn't even say hello to me . . . I mean, she used to give me a hug every morning . .

Yeah, and she started acting strange . . .

After we came back from Seattle on January, I think, 7th, 6th or 7th . . .

OK.

[REDACTED] had been [REDACTED]

Uh-huh.

She was very angry . . .

She didn't [REDACTED]

She always [REDACTED]

OK.

b6
b7C
b7D

[redacted]
[redacted] she's the only one. We came back the beginning of January. [redacted] was in a silent rage, which mystified me. I've seen her angry at other people, including the McCONEs, but this was really a tear she was on.

Um-hm.

And I cannot pinpoint a time, but somewhere . . . say, I would guess from March 1st to April 1st, [redacted] lightened up and went back to herself. Now, [redacted] is a very astute woman, in her way. Very watchful, very much to herself.

Where is [redacted] shipping her . . .

[redacted] can't know that, all she knows is that it's happening. She watches. Nobody knows this. [redacted] told me.

Yeah.

[redacted]
Huh, that's strange. How long has she been doing that?

[redacted] is radically nutso.

Um-hm.

I would put [redacted] low . . .

On a priority, huh? (Telephone rings) Excuse, excuse me, just a second. Oh, I guess somebody else got it.

[redacted] is not totally without motivation. She was a

[redacted]
[redacted] it's been a horrid mess,
[redacted] is just plain wacky.
I don't see her stealing.

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] OK.

It's not impossible. But it would be typical of [REDACTED] to do this, even though she had not done anything wrong, is what I'm trying to say.

b6
b7C
b7D

Right.

She just wants out of the mess. She's a woman who [REDACTED] [REDACTED] when there are guests in the dining room. You know (laugh) . . .

OK.

And I, I don't see her, but on the other hand, she is doing this weird thing which I'm telling you, but mainly to tell you that [REDACTED] knows. Knows more than people give her credit for, and at the time period we're talking about, there is some possibility that something was going on. I know she has a [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] She would never ask for anything, she is too proud.

Um-hm.

She has had anger at the McCONEs. It was severe and with cause. [REDACTED] tend to get even.

Right.

They carry grudges and they get even. Lastly, she could [REDACTED]

Um-hm. You think the, uh, [REDACTED]

No, no, I'm tal . . . that's, don't confuse [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]

OK, now you're talking about [REDACTED] . . .

[REDACTED] . . .

[REDACTED] has . . .

. . . [REDACTED]

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] Oh, OK.

I told you about [REDACTED] mainly to tell you, but [REDACTED] knows what goes on in that house.

Yeah.

[REDACTED] is a smart woman. She has had cause to be angry. She does have [REDACTED] She does have tremendous [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] She told me [REDACTED] And she's the only one in the house smart enough to have figured that out. Now [REDACTED] just yesterday, I understand, also figured it out.

Now who's this? Oh, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] OK.

[REDACTED] has now figured out that [REDACTED] But [REDACTED] thought of it first. She saw it first and she knew what was happening. Smart lady . . . [REDACTED] doesn't know. The McCONEs don't know.

Um-hm.

You have to learn in this house not to go around saying, "Na-Na-Na," or (unintelligible). [REDACTED]

That's her business . . .

I'm not the manager.

Yeah.

OK, you need to know this.

Right. Oh, yeah.

OK. I think your main suspect . . . OK, so that's my least favorite person, but there is the potential there, with [REDACTED]

With [REDACTED] um-hm.

She's not my least favorite person, as a matter of fact she's my favorite person of the three.

Um-hm.

I happen to love [ ] and I would be terribly hurt if it were [ ]. But, it's a possibility.

b6
b7C
b7D

Yeah, now what about [ ] [ ] is, uh, like you say, is manipulative . . .

Number one lady. Alright, this is . . . there are obvious reasons why [ ] might. [ ] tremendous motivation. [ ] wants things, she wants to be a wealthy lady like Mrs. McCONE; she's driven for that. The day at the doctor . . . she has delusions of grandeur. She [ ]

Yesterday I said, [ ]

Um-hm. I understand she's got some problems with [ ]

But the McCONEs bailed out, you see.

Uh-huh. Was it a month ago, about a month ago?

Now that tells me, if [ ] had the jewels, why would she go through the anguish . . . she [ ]
[ ] It was tough for her to [ ]

Um-hm.

And say, [ ]
(Unintelligible) the jewels, and she had them already for two months at that point in time. Why is she now [ ]
[ ] One of two reasons, either she wants more money before she runs for the hills or she doesn't have the jewels.

Yeah..

It's possible, also, that she couldn't get rid of 'em, which is another question we come to. How many of those folks could execute this? How many people would take that, not think ahead to "What do I do after I've got it? Do I go to the local pawnshop and sell it? What do I do? Do I know somebody in the underground that can move this?"

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] Exactly.

OK. Three people might be able to do that, in my mind.

b6
b7C
b7D

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] that the jewels were gone.

OK. She left right after [REDACTED] right after the . . .

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] after the discovery.

Now I can give you actual dates.

Um-hm.

On the 22nd, Mrs. McCONE was to go to the [REDACTED] residence for dinner. [REDACTED] went to get the jewels, they were gone, Mrs. McCONE went to the dinner without her jewels . . . her big ring, 20-carat diamond, nearly perfect, that's a quarter of a million dollars right there, by the way.

Um-hm.

What's missing here is closer to a million.

Yeah, I've got a, I'm sure there's quite a dollar amount.

OK. [REDACTED] . . . OK, she went . . . I said, [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] And I picked up the phone and called [REDACTED] and said, [REDACTED] come down here." [REDACTED] gets very mad when I take control like that but there are cases where I feel like, "Look . . .

"Something's gotta be done . . ."

. . . what are we gonna do here?" [REDACTED] did an inventory, 21 major pieces missing on that inventory, and [REDACTED]

Um-hm.

On the 25th.

b6
b7C

Right.

Gone for [ ] OK?

b6
b7C
b7D

Right. And then [ ] Mrs. McCONE when she came back.

I, in the meantime, on that, on the following Tuesday while [ ] was still gone, needless to say I was feeling tremendous anger and frustration.. Um, [ ] came down and

[ ]

[ ] . . .

OK, now who did the inventory the first time?

[ ]

[ ] . . . and [ ]

Um-hm. The second time, [ ] did it.

OK.

This was the following Tuesday. [ ]

[ ]

Uh-huh.

OK?

Right.

Um . . . OK, the [ ] The third person is [ ]

[ ]

[ ] that are somewhat questionable.

b6
b7C

Um-hm.

So that's the third person who might be able to move it, and that's what I mean by ability to execute the crime, finish it.

b6
b7C
b7D

Um-hm.

These other people, [redacted] no longer on the staff. [redacted] when the major theft took place. However, I think you're gonna run into something tough when we get these people on the machine. There have been four or five minor jewelry thefts since the big haul. I think we may have more than one person who said, "Hey, somebody took a million dollars worth of jewels, nothing was done, I think I'll help myself to a few pieces."

Do you think the major part of it was done . . .

Between June, uh, March 10th and 22nd . . .

March 10th and 22nd.

That was the big one.

OK, and then there's been a couple of pieces that have been . . .

Several pieces have walked away . . .

. . . disappearing since then.

See, she doesn't own anything, that isn't worth something, except one $6.00 pair of earrings that were also stolen in one of the recent lists . . . and somebody didn't know that they were only worth $6.00, that's a pair [redacted] gave her. Uh, and [redacted]

And this was her, uh . . .

Her gift to Mrs. McCONE . . .

. . . $6.00 pair of earrings.

But, several small thefts have taken place. Nothing has been done about those, either, until they finally came to you a couple of weeks ago.

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] Now, how did Mrs. McCONE's daughters get involved?

Alright . . . this is absolutely off the record. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

b6
b7C
b7D

[REDACTED] Uh-huh.

[REDACTED] is the head of the family, now, really. When Mr. McCONE dies, Mrs. McCONE will go to Seattle to her estate there and spend the rest of her days in the care of this son and her other children. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Um-hm.

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Three days later his sisters were down here and did the inventory. He went home and he handled it.

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Yeah.

OK.

Now, nobody, but nobody . . . I doubt that [REDACTED] even

[REDACTED]

b6
b7C

Um-hm. And you don't think [redacted] [redacted] or anything?

b6
b7C
b7D

Yeah, OK. Um . . .

So . . . anyway, so [redacted] got the ball rolling. [redacted] [redacted] got the ball rolling. Once those girls came in here, they found the jewels missing, [redacted]

OK. Alright, so the family wasn't aware of any of this until June, until shortly before it was reported?

OK. Then the girls came down the first part of June and did their inventory . . .

On the 1st . . .

. . . and then it was reported to us.

Yeah. OK. Alright, so at this point you feel the persons with the most accessibility and . . .

Ability and the whole smear.

Ability and everything would be [redacted]

Yes.

OK.

Now . . . I think . . . one thing, bear in mind, as I say, when you go to on the polygraph with these folks, and do include [redacted] I think [redacted] lifted a few minor pieces late in the day.

What was [redacted] position?

He was [redacted]

b6
b7C

b6
b7C
b7D

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] Was this on weekends?

A [REDACTED]

He was a [REDACTED]

And a real strange character, in my mind. But, then, a lot of strange characters. Except, he has been seen by other people lurking and looking in places he shouldn't have been lurking and looking.

Um-hm.

And I, I suspect he might have lifted something . . . and I wouldn't be a bit surprised if you don't find that two or three other people, when they are pointedly asked, "Did you take any of Mrs. McCONE's jewelry?" might respond strangely, simply because they took a ring here or a set of earrings there. (End of first side of tape)

OK, have you taken any jewelry?

No.

At all? Any, any pieces? OK.

[REDACTED]
OK. Um . . . have they given you any loans?

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] OK.

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] Initially the idea was to link all of these . . .

Um-hm.

. . . uh, it didn't happen. That was at the instigation of [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

b6
b7C

b6
b7C
b7D

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] And, uh . . . yes, Mr. and Mrs. McCONE
[REDACTED]

OK.

Um-hm.

But . . . they're just very generous people.

So you [REDACTED] Type of thing?

Yes. It's [REDACTED]

OK. So, and there have been some, some other small amounts of, uh, cash bonuses type things, cash gifts.

OK. .

Uh, [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

OK.

We have to ask ourselves, looking at a major criminal act, and a major risk that could put a person in jail for awhile, I think one of the big questions is, "What did the person think they could do with those kind of jewels, once they had 'em? Would anybody take 'em just 'cause they wanted 'em?" I don't think so. I think they were looking for money and in looking at that, they had to look for "How do I get rid of it," and in looking at that, I think most people would be deterred. I would be.

Uh-huh. Certainly. It's very distinctive jewelry.

And, uh, while many of these people are ignorant and might not think that far, I think most people would try to think ahead, "What do I do once I've taken this enormous risk?"

b6
b7C

Um-hm.

And I can't see many people fitting that category. OK?

b6
b7C
b7D

Would you be willing to take a polygraph examination?

Absolutely. As a matter of fact . . .

I'm asking everybody.

. . . I'll go first in front of witnesses, so the little ones who are scared don't have to be scared.

Uh-huh. OK.

There are a lot of these little folks that are gonna say, "Oh, my God, I took a bottle of wine." "I took a book." "I took a figurine." "I . . .," you know.

Yeah. I'm not concerned about those little things. My primary interest is the theft of this jewelry and, uh, where it went.

Now, I would like to go into  a little bit.
If that suits you.

Sure.

Why, a woman who is very bright, and who knows very well that his mind is 3/4 gone and that he can't even make the smallest decisions anymore . . . without tremendous difficulty . . .

Um-hm.

• • •

Uh-huh, right.

Why?

b6
b7C

b6
b7C
b7D

[REDACTED]
Yeah.

I believe that . . . there's a real possibility that she hopes we'll go away to Seattle and then another 2-1/2 months will go away, go by.

Um-hm.

Uh . . . maybe she is just very afraid of taking responsibility, initiative, of having disruptions in the house, or so forth.

How is her standing with the McCONEs as far as, uh, being taken care of after the McCONEs go on?

[REDACTED]
She is. Is she [REDACTED] or . . . ?
[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]
Uh-huh.

Now, that's a typical [REDACTED] When she's really, when nobody's watching, that counts. And, uh . . .

Yeah, does she, do you think that maybe she feels, you know, the boat is rocked too much that she could lose some of that security?

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] What the details are on that, I don't know. I do know that they have [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] . . .

[REDACTED]
Um-hm.

. . . uh, and other [REDACTED] . . . [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

b6
b7C

b6
b7C
b7D

[REDACTED]

Was this at Mrs. McCONE's urging?

Absolutely.

OK.

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Um-hm, OK.

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Right.

And these poor folks, who don't have anything, really, you know, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] . . Mrs. McCONE could die in her sleep . .

[REDACTED]

Right.

. . . I get so frustrated, you know, I see these things go on. But keep this in mind . . . [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] On the day . . . on the 22nd . . .

b6
b7C

alright, let me get it chronological . . . Mr. McCONE was in the hospital from the 14th to the 17th, that means the back of the house was quiet.

b6
b7C
b7D

Of March? OK.

That means he was gone and his nurses were gone.

OK.

And there was much more access to those quarters.

OK.

To her quarters, specifically. You have to go through his quarters to get to her quarters.

Now, was, uh, [ ] is [ ] right?

[ ]

[ ]

[ ]

[ ]

Yes.

OK.

[ ]

[ ]

Um-hm.

Mr. McCONE sleeps at night, pretty much. [ ]

[ ] Mrs. McCONE who stays up all night . . .

Um-hm.

. . . and sleeps all day. That is a factor you need to know. I am not sure it figures into this, but you need to know it. It was while he was in the hospital that she wrote all these humungous checks and gave all this money away.

Um-hm.

[ ]

[ ]

[ ]

What the hell business is it of hers?

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] Right.

But this is how she feels, I'm telling you.

b6
b7C
b7D

Um-hm.

Now, this is the key one. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Um-hm.

Um-hm.

. . . I've seen this happen, alright? . . . before.
Making it as difficult . . .

That was to [REDACTED] that, uh . . .

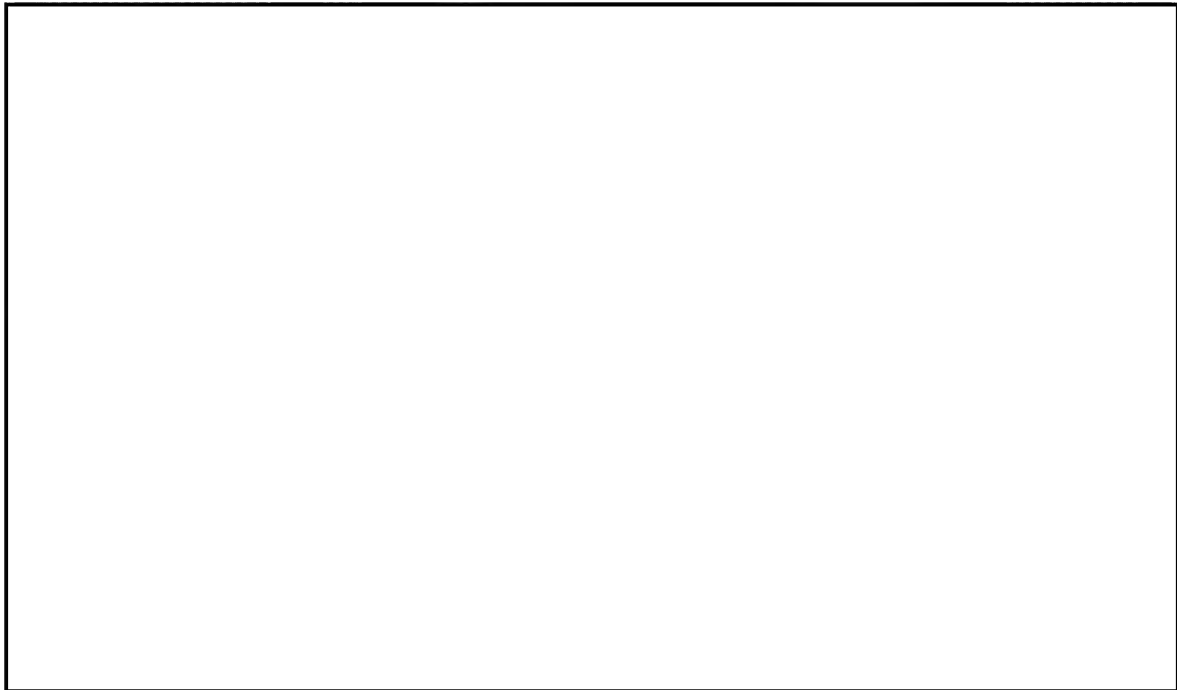

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] Now, that was [REDACTED] It wasn't until . . . oh, and she said, [REDACTED] and that's a quote . . .

Uh-huh.

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
OK.

b6
b7C

b6
b7C
b7D

She was upset . . .

Um-hm.

The next day the jewels were missing.

The next day was when the jewels were discovered missing.
That's interesting.

OK? I didn't think of this, I'll be honest, until I went over these things, and over 'em, and just carefully took each person and then I'd look at all the events in the house. "Uh-huh, he was in the hospital. While the quarters might have been quiet, somebody could have got in there," and all these things, and then I said, "My God,

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] Hm . . . it's very interesting. We do plan to polygraph [REDACTED] too. Of course, she feels she's . . .

Above that . . .

. . . above that, but she's going to be polygraphed, also.

Mrs. McCONE says you will polygraph [REDACTED] [REDACTED] Mr. McCONE is being hurt.

He thinks [REDACTED] ought to be polygraphed, too.

He is going to be hurt, terribly. He is going to be hurt terribly if this progresses. Poor old guy, with what he's got left. So . . . [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] And knowing [REDACTED] that could have been a hell of a motivator.

Um-hm.

That's not to say that [REDACTED] didn't do it or someone else didn't do it . . .

Right.

OK?

Yeah. OK.

Um . . .

No, right now, you know, everybody's suspect . . . uh, there are some people that have more access than others, there are some people that have more motivation than others, and we're looking at all those factors, right now. And, uh, we plan to have a meeting out at the residence tomorrow, with all the staff. Um . . . myself and an agent, uh, from the FBI will be out there tomorrow and explain exactly what's gonna happen. We'll start doing polygraphs next week. And . . .

Because these folks want to go on the 7th and . . .

Um-hm.

. . . and, uh, and 8 or 10 of the staff will go, including me . . .

b6
b7C
b7D

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] Right, I understand that.

[REDACTED] . . . and, uh . . .

[REDACTED] I'm sure they'd like to get this cleared up as soon as possible. I know I've talked to Mr. McCONE and he is very anxious . . .

[REDACTED] I will tell you now that I've told Mrs. McCONE, if you get a clear suspect on the polygraph, it may or may not be usable, really, except it gives the detectives a way to go . . .

[REDACTED] Right, exactly.

[REDACTED] . . . someone to look at, very closely.

[REDACTED] Exactly. This is not something that we can use in court.

[REDACTED] However, I told her, "You must ask yourself, Mrs. McCONE, what do you want? Do you want your jewels back and the guilty party out of your sight, and maybe have this on their record, or are you gonna go for a prosecution which might be long and involved and difficult?" Because it's very possible that after the polygraphs, that the guilty party were told that it was pointing toward them or even if the staff were told, "We believe we know who did it," if the person will bring these things back, Mrs. McCONE is willing to simply dismiss that . . . let them go.

[REDACTED] Is this what she said to you?

[REDACTED] This is what I said to her.

[REDACTED] Oh, uh-huh.

[REDACTED] "Do you want your jewels back? Do you want the person to go to jail? What do you want?" 'Cause there's a good chance . . . there is some chance, that whoever did it hasn't managed to get rid of it or get rid of all of it.

[REDACTED] That's a possibility.

[REDACTED] And she said, "I'd like to have my things back, because some of them are very dear to me, but it's not as though a child has been kidnapped. I will consider that, I tend to feel the person should be punished."

[REDACTED] Um-hm.

[REDACTED] And, so you need to know that. And you might want to discuss that with her after you've done the polygraphs.

b6
b7C
b7D

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] Oh, we will, we will, we definitely will.

And after she has been up and awake and had her brunch, this is no dumb lady.

b6
b7C
b7D

Um-hm. I talked to her, uh, last week and she seems pretty alert.

Yeah, and she's controlled a vast fortune in her day . . .

Did . . . is she the one who has the money in the family?

Yes.

She's . . . it's her money . . .

Well, Mr. McCONE . . . everything is relative. She's worth six to seven hundred million . . . and he's worth just under a hundred million. They have owned much more property than they do now. Their estate in . . . see, this was their summer cottage.

[REDACTED] Uh-huh.

This home you're looking at was their summer cottage. The estate in Seattle has 43,000 sq. ft., under one roof, plus a 3-bedroom guesthouse, the gardener's cottage, the gatekeeper's cottage . . . it's unbelievable.

[REDACTED] These their two primary residences, here and Seattle?

Yes, they still own a (unintelligible) in the Bahamas which is also vast and has two main houses. They own half of an island, in the Bahamas. But the last time they went down there, which was a year ago February, he nearly died and there are no good hospital facilities there, and so they don't feel they can go there anymore. They owned an apartment in the Ritz Carlton in New York and they owned one in Paris and this and that and the other. They are fabulously wealthy people.

[REDACTED] Oh, certainly, certainly, that's obvious . . .

As a matter of fact, I thought I would ask you . . . if there is a private investigator that you like and feel you could work with to do some leg work, she'd pay.

[REDACTED] Um-hm.

You might keep that in mind, as the things come down . . .

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] Yeah, that's something I can, I can talk to them about, that, uh, you know, that is certainly well within their resources and with, well, within their right, if they want to do that.

b6
b7C
b7D

Remember this, [REDACTED] If you sit down with [REDACTED] and Mr. McCONE, you will almost always get a "No, let me think about that, we'll discuss it" . . .

Um-hm.

. . . If you sit down with Mrs. McCONE and you have an imaginative idea to move this sucker, she'll do it.

Yeah, well, my . . .

He's being influenced by [REDACTED]

Yeah, well now, she is the victim, in this case. It's her jewelry . . .

It's her jewels . . .

. . . as far as I am concerned, she is the victim in this and I will, uh, deal with her. I know Mr. McCONE has been pushing quite a bit and I know [REDACTED] has been pushing quite a bit. Uh, Mr. McCONE may be pushing because [REDACTED] is pushing.

No, it's the opposite.

OK.

[REDACTED]

OK. Uh, like I say, maybe she's pushing because he is pushing her because he feels bad about what has happened.

Oh, he feels terrible. He feels responsible, he's terribly frustrated.

Um-hm.

He doesn't now understand, he can't get clear in his mind, because he doesn't remember the details. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] Um-hm.

All these things that happened for 2-1/2 months, he's confused now and doesn't understand why nothing was done for 2-1/2 months.

b6
b7C
b7D

Um-hm. Have . . . I understand there was a problem with some drugs missing, too. Some Darvacet, or something, of Mr. McCONE's . . .

Yes, and that pointed directly at [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

OK, [REDACTED] told who?

Mr. McCONE.

Mr. McCONE.

I talked to him, personally.

OK.

[REDACTED] . . .

OK, what was [REDACTED] How did [REDACTED] get involved with, uh, the family . . .

[REDACTED] OK, where . . . they were missing . . . I understand there was a whole, [REDACTED] at one time and then found . . . subsequently found someplace else?

I don't remember the details on that. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] That I was directly involved in.

b6

No. I heard about it but I don't know anything in the details.

OK.

I do know that they called [REDACTED] . . . the McCONEs are pretty much able to pick up the phone and call almost anybody. They can call their doctor and say, "You tell [REDACTED] I want to talk to him and I don't want no BS." You know, some big dude at Community Hospital will come down on [REDACTED] . . .

Um-hm. So, uh, so, anyway, they got, they called [REDACTED]

Uh, but there are two [REDACTED] There's a [REDACTED] on duty and a [REDACTED] Uh, part of his devotion is the fact that [REDACTED] although Mr. McCONE, I don't think, is tuned into that.

Yeah. OK. Well, this sure gives me a lot of information to go on. It sure gives me a lot of insight and background into some of the activities out there and what's going on. Like I say, we'll be having a meeting out there, uh, tomorrow afternoon, I'm sure you'll probably be told about it. [REDACTED] probably let everybody know . . . or she should.

Don't be surprised if they don't lock me in the closet. [REDACTED] is . . .

Oh, no . . . Mr. McCONE is gonna make sure that everybody's there.

One last thing . . . I think we mentioned the fact that several people may have done little thefts of jewelry, after the fact, which was the . . . a very great temptation. Everybody knew there were major pieces missing, on the nursing staff. Um . . . I want to talk a little bit about a theory that sounds like a novelist at work, and I have written a couple of books. 06/09/88, 0925 hrs.: I received a call from [redacted] who advised that she had received a call from [redacted] who is an ex-employee of the McCONEs. She advised that [redacted] told her that he saw the newspaper article concerning the theft of jewelry and told her he wanted to mention something about another employee who still works for the McCONEs. [redacted] said that she would forward this information to me in writing.

06/10/88: I completed background checks on the list of employees from the McCONE residence. This included checking for criminal history through the California State Department of Justice, checking for criminal history and contacts through the Monterey County Sheriff's Office, and checking for any record or contacts through the local jurisdiction where each employee resides.

The background investigation revealed that none of the employees had a prior criminal history and that the only contacts by law enforcement that the employees have had were as follows:

1. [redacted] was the reporting party for a vehicle accident in the city of Seaside in 1987.
2. [redacted] is the owner of a vehicle involved in an accident in Pacific Grove in 1986.

06/14/88, 1345 hrs.: I recontacted [redacted] at the McCONE residence at which time she provided me with a list of six additional items of jewelry which they have not been able to locate (see additional stolen property report). Along with the stolen property report, [redacted] attached a copy of a photograph of Item #16 (a ring), a receipt for Item #17 and #18 (necklaces), and a copy of an appraisal list indicating Item #20 (a ruby beaded necklace) and #21 (a ruby beaded bracelet).

06/14/88, 1400 hrs.: I contacted Mrs. McCONE at her residence at which time she told me that the items of jewelry missing from her lockbox have been disappearing over a period of time, saying that the box used to be completely full and it is now only half full. She said she has no idea who has taken the jewelry but would most suspect [redacted]

b6

She said that at all other times there at least two nurses on duty and other employees are around which would make it hard for someone to get into the lockbox unnoticed.

Mrs. McCONE showed me where the lockbox is located under a counter in her dressing room. This lockbox is a metal box approximately 18"x9"x9" with a 3-number combination lock. Mrs. McCONE said that the box is kept locked at all times except when she or one of her nurses is getting jewelry in or out of the box. She said that the lockbox contains her good jewelry which she wears when she goes out or has dinner guests, however because of her health she has not done much entertaining recently, therefore has not had but a couple of occasions to wear the jewelry in the past several months. Mrs. McCONE said that several of the nurses have the combination to the lockbox as does [redacted]. She said she has given the combination to several of the nurses so that they could get jewelry out of the box for her or put it away when she is finished wearing it. However, she is not sure which nurses she has given the combination to and which ones she has not.

Mrs. McCONE said that she is sure that the jewelry items from the lockbox have not been misplaced or placed in any other location by her. She said that because of her health she is unable to get around without assistance as she loses her balance, therefore she has nurses around the clock who assist her in dressing and undressing and getting her around.

I asked [redacted] if Mrs. McCONE has ever given her any jewelry or loaned her any money, at which time [redacted] told me that Mrs. McCONE has given her some odds and ends, but no jewelry, and has loaned her some money.

[redacted] said that she never asked for a loan but Mrs. McCONE approached her saying that she should buy a house instead of renting

I asked [redacted] if she was responsible for the thefts of jewelry and she said that she was not, saying that the McCONEs were good to her and she would not take from them and could not understand why anyone would because if they really had a problem, the McCONEs would loan them money to help them out.

[redacted] said she would be willing to take a polygraph examination and felt that it was a good idea that all employees take one.

06/06/88, 1010 hours:

John McCONE came to Monterey Sheriff's Substation to report a jewelry theft - accompanying him was [REDACTED]

Mr. McCONE said that several pieces of his wife's jewelry had been taken, from a jewelry box, between last March 23rd and 06/02/88.

The box is aluminum and is covered with tan canvas material - there is a combination device. It is kept underneath Mrs. McCONE's dressing table, in her bedroom.

[REDACTED] said that she and [REDACTED] took inventory of the jewelry (in the box) last March 23rd. [REDACTED] brought the box to her; used the combination to open the box and together they took inventory. [REDACTED] doesn't know the combination.

They had a partial and incomplete list of items taken. I gave to them a book of "Stolen Property" forms and asked that pertinent information be applied; then return to me.

I also asked for photostatic copies of all jewelry photographs, appraisal sheets, and a list of all employees.

After this data is collected, a follow-up officer will continue this investigation.

The McCONES employ a large staff in their residence. There are servants, a chauffeur and nurses (around the clock). Both Mr and Mrs. McCONE each have nurses (around the clock). Each of Mrs. McCONE's nurses (supposedly) know the combination to the jewelry box.

06/08/88, 1000 hrs.: I contacted [redacted] and advised her that I was following up on the investigation of the theft that she and Mr. McCONE reported on 06/06/88. I told her that I would like to get some further information such as what type of jewelry was taken and a list of employees that had access to the jewelry.

[redacted] said that she and Mr. McCONE would come to my office later this morning with further information.

1130 hrs.: Mr. McCONE and [redacted] came to the Sheriff's Office at which time [redacted] provided me with a partial stolen property list. She said that she was still in the process of obtaining descriptions of some of the items and will forward a completed list at a later date.

The partial list of stolen property provided this date indicated a loss of women's jewelry with a value in excess of $300,000.00 (see attached list for descriptions).

[redacted] also provided me with the following list of employees who would have been present during the time that the jewelry was discovered missing:

[ ] also advised me that there were two other nurses employed through [ ] that no longer are employed, however they were employed during the time some of the items were discovered missing. These persons were [ ] (last day employed was [ ] and [ ] (last day employed was [ ]).

I asked [ ] if she knew who would have had access to Mrs. McCONE's locked jewelry box and she told me that Audrey BARKER, [ ] all had access to Mrs. McCONE's jewelry box and that [ ] may also have the combination to the jewelry box but she is not sure.

I asked [ ] to go ahead and relate to me again how they were able to determine that items were, in fact, missing. [ ] said that on 03/23/88, Mrs. McCONE's jewelry was inventoried by herself and [ ] because they were unable to find Mrs. McCONE's engagement ring and a long gold beaded necklace. During this inventory they also discovered that a pair of gold twist earrings and a pair of gold half loop earrings were missing. It was also noted in this inventory that there used to be two animal bracelets with gems in the heads that were located in a drawer and several other jewelry items which they believe used to be in Mrs. McCONE's lockbox. These items were a big diamond/sapphire ring, three bracelets, one sapphire, one emerald, one ruby (all straight line), earrings of emeralds and diamonds, a topaz set of necklace/bracelet/ring (which they recall that Mrs. McCONE gave to [ ], a star sapphire ring (which Mrs. McCONE said she had given to [ ], a gold watch with pave face, and a pair of New Mary Krumming earrings.

[ ] advised me that at the time of this inventory, Mrs. McCONE stated that she had all those items that were in her lockbox, even though [ ] did not locate them.

[ ] said that on 04/01/88 they went over the inventory list with Mrs. McCONE who told them that she had all the items on the list, including the items that [ ] listed to be missing.

[ ] said that at various times since 03/23/88, items have been discovered missing, saying that on 05/05/88, while Mrs. McCONE was packing for a trip to Seattle, she discovered a lapis ring missing. Then on 05/08/88 while in Seattle, WA, she realized that a gold spaghetti strand necklace was missing. On 05/25/88 an inexpensive pair of gold half-shell earrings were found to be missing.

[ ] said this caused her and [ ] to reinventory the jewelry at which time they discovered numerous other items missing. [ ] said that at that time they advised family members in Seattle, WA of the items missing. On 06/02/88, Mrs. McCONE's [ ]

[redacted] came down and went through all lockboxes and safes, inventorying Mrs. McCONE's jewelry items and found several other items of jewelry missing (see stolen property list). It should be noted that during the inventory on 06/02/88, a jade/gold bead necklace showed up that was thought to be missing on 05/26/88.

I asked Mr. McCONE if he knew if any of his help was having financial problems and he told me that there were [redacted]

Mr. McCONE said the person he would most suspect would be [redacted] saying that they are very close to each other and are on the phone with each other a lot of the time.

[redacted] said that Mrs. McCONE suspects a [redacted] as the most likely person to be responsible for the thefts, however [redacted] could not provide any reason why Mrs. McCONE felt she was responsible.

I advised Mr. McCONE and [redacted] that I would do some background checks on the employees and then begin interviewing them in an attempt to determine who may be responsible. I was advised that there had been no signs of forced entry to the residence and that Mr. McCONE and [redacted] believe that the thefts are being committed by someone who is employed at the residence.

I advised [redacted] to complete the stolen property list so that it could be added to the report.

CASE CONTINUES.
